

Happy New Year to everyone

In typing up the events for this week to include the whole of the benefice, it became apparent that including the patron for each church was somewhat superfluous considering most of our Anglican churches are the sole church in a parish; the exceptions being the churches of Morley and Rocklands where two reside in each parish. So from now on only the parish name will be given except for those exceptions. This will save a lot of typing (and potential for error!).

My Apologies, the readings originally given for Epiphany were incorrect; correct readings are listed below.
