Thank you to everyone who attended this presentation last Wednesday. It was an informative presentation which will help us decide whether or not to join either of these schemes in the future.

Free Cleaning Workshop

A free cleaning workshop for churches at is being held in Holy Trinity church, Great Hockham on Saturday 18th March.

The workshop is hosted by the Bats In Churches project with experts from the Churches Conservation Trust. It is focussed on cleaning churches with bats, but there's lots of simple practical advice that might be useful for all churches who would like some help and advice with cleaning.

The session is very practical with lots of demonstrations and chances to try out the cleaning techniques yourself.

The workshop is free, but we do have limited spaces and people need to book in advance online
